No. 20

Foreman Appointed To Board Visitors

Alvan Herbert Foreman, A. B., '99, of Norfolk, has been appointed by Governor Trinkle to the Board of Visitors in place of George P. Coleman, of Williamsburg. Mr. Coleman is the only one of the five members whose terms expired on March 7 who was not reappointed by the governor.

Mr. Foreman entered William and Mary in 1895, coming from Great Bridge, in Norfolk county. While in college, he was active in all phases of college life, but was known best as an excellent student.

After graduation, he taught for several years in the schools of the cities of Roanoke and Norfolk. He was for two years superintendent of schools in Norfolk. He then went to the University of Virginia, where he graduated in law. Since then he has been practicing in Norfolk. He is a member of the law firm of Pender, Way and Foreman, with offices in the Law building.

Mr. Foreman is a prominent layman in the Methodist church, and is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, and of Phi Beta Kappa. He has always displayed a great deal of devotion to his alma mater, and has been very active in promoting the interests of the college.

Dramatic Club To Play At Fort Eustis

The two Dramatic Club productions, "Wurzel Flummery," a comedy, and "The Game of Chess," a tragedy, which met with such success at their presentation here and in Norfolk, will be offered at the Liberty theater at Fort Eustis Friday evening, March 14.

The plays are being presented at Eustis as a benefit for the Daughters of the American Revolution. The theater there is one of the largest in Virginia, and the price of admission for the two plays and a movie, with good music, will be forty cents. Those who were unable to see the plays here and who care to go to Eustis are offered an unusual opportunity to see these two plays.

A Request

Two books, Boyd's "Through the Wheat," and de la Mare's "The Riddle," have been removed from the Flat Hat office without permission. Will the person or persons who took these books kindly return them, as both are borrowed and I wish to return them to their owners?

Cannon Bill Passes House; Senate To Act

According to Associated Press dispatch from Washington, the bill introduced by Representative Andrew Jackson Montague providing for the loan to the College of William and Mary of two cannon which were captured from the British at the Yorktown surrender, has passed the House and has been sent to the Senate for their action.

In introducing the bill, Mr. Montague referred to the splendid service rendered by William and Mary to its country during the Revolution. In its preamble the bill states that the college furnished the president of the first Continental Congress, that one of its sons drafted the Declaration of Independence, and that four signers of that famous document were William and Mary men, besides many others who were conspicuous in the struggle for liberty.

Eight of these captured guns are now on the parade ground at Fortress Monroe, and two of them will soon be transferred to the campus, provided the Senate passes the bill as is expected.

Letters of Owen Gift To Library

The most recent valuable gift to the Library is in the form of photostat copies of two original letters of Goronwy (Gronow) Owen, presented by the National Library of Wales.

Owen was at one time head of the Grammar School at the College of William and Mary, and later became rector of a parish in Brunswick County, Virginia, where he remained until his death. He married the sister of William Stith, at that time president of the college. Besides being a scholar of marked achievement, Owen was also a poet of distinction. He was to Wales what Burns is to Scotland.

Both of the letters are in Welsh. One of them is his last letter, written before sailing for America, under date of December 12, 1757; the other is the only letter known to be in existence, written by the poet from Virginia, and is dated from Brunswick, July 23, 1767.

The letters were sent at the request of E. G. Swem, librarian of the college, and will be translated and preserved along with other historical archives of the college. A translation of the letters will appear in an issue of the William and Mary Quarterly.

Mr. O. F. "Hawk" Northington, who received his degree after the fall quarter, visited friends here during the week-end.

Sympathy

The student body extends to Julian Delk its deepest sympathy in the recent loss of his uncle and guardian.

Indians Drop Game To Guilford College

The Indians played their final game of the season Friday, February 29, and were defeated by Guilford College, which displayed the best basketball seen in Jefferson gym this year. Captain Horace Hicks, of the Indians, closed his collegiate career in basketball in a blaze of glory; but even his splendid work could not overcome the great playing of the entire Guilford team, and the Indians were forced to take the small end of a 34-26 score.

The Guilford team could do everything a good basketball team is supposed to do, and they possessed two stars in J. W. Frazier and J. G.

Spring Season To Bring Much Activity

There is no excuse for spring fever this year. All symptoms of this devastating annual disease are being suppressed by a concentrated outburst of campus activities. Instead of the usual lapse of interest at the close of the basketball season, co-operation has rallied in responding to other problems.

The Spanish Club has proved beyond doubt the possibilities of lecture programs. For the benefit of the library fund the club sold tickets to a series of illustrated lectures by Professor C. E. Castaneda. The first two lectures have been remarkably well attended and indicate the same success for the third and last one on Tuesday night. Since Dr. Chandler's generous offer to double the sum of the proceeds, many more tickets have been sold.

The fashion show, under the auspices of the Monogram Club, proved its popularity by a large attendance Saturday night.

J. L. Hall Lit. Society Honors Its Namesake

Dr. J. Lesslie Hall was the guest of honor at a surprise party in honor of his sixty-eighth birthday last Sunday afternoon. The celebration was given by Dr. Hall's namesake, the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society.

A procession of faculty members and the officers of the society was followed by a duet by Anna Hudson and Alice Hubbard. During the song two flower girls distributed lovely pink crepe roses, presenting Dr. Hall with a large one. In the heart of the rose was buried a slip of paper on which was written, Announcing the sixty-eighth birthday of Dr. J. Leslie Hall.

Edith Stone, president of the society, told the purpose of the celebration and asked Dr. Chandler to present the gift to Dr. Hall. The gift proved to be a check for $100, to be used in buying such books as Dr. Hall wished for the J. Lesslie Hall shelf in the library.

Dr. Hall's expression of thanks concluded the program.

INDIANS DROP GAME TO GUILFORD COLLEGE

Frazier. Guilford was the first to score and soon ran up a commanding lead. The Indians were unable to break through Guilford's defense and scored but eight points in the first half. Due to the accurate shooting of the two Fraziers and the speedy floor work of the team, Guilford had a total of seventeen points at the close of the half.

The Indians took on a new lease of life in the second half and with Hicks leading the way came within a few points of tying the score, and it looked for a while as if we would win the game. But Guilford was not to be denied and in the last few minutes of play rang up several baskets in succession, which made the game secure for them.

The Indians presented their strongest line-up for the first time in the last two weeks and every man played a clean, hard-fought game. The game was fast throughout and excitement ran high during the entire game.

Captain Hicks, Cofer and Lee Todd were the best performers for the Indians, while the two Fraziers and Cummings were the best for the visitors. Summary:

SPORTS

Indoor Baseball Popular With Girls

Fifty eight girls responded to Manager Davis' call for indoor baseball last Thursday evening. This is the first appearance of this branch of sport at William and Mary, and, according to Miss Davis, much interest is being shown by the girls who are out.

No definite plans for a schedule have yet been made, but in all probability there will be a series of intramural games arranged later in the season.

For the present, practice is held on Monday afternoon and Tuesday and Thursday nights in the gym of Jefferson Hall. All girls are urged to come out and enjoy this new sport.

Diamond Candidates Began Work Monday

Monday afternoon brought the long looked for call for baseball aspirants. With spring weather prevailing, the first sound of the old apple meeting the big stick brought back memories of last year's championship team. Around fifty candidates were on deck to try their luck or rather to start the fight for vacant positions on what is hoped will again be Virginia's championship team. Coach Tasker gave the boys a short talk along the lines of training and sticking it out for the team, and then took his charges out to what used to be the "Duc" field, but what is now more or less a cornfield, in the driest state. Manager Kennard issued out the necessary equipment for the early practice and at the very start instructed his assistants in the art of chasing foul balls.

The catchers and pitchers have been working in the gym for the past two weeks, taking things easy while working out the kinks in the old soupbone. The letter men returned from last year are: Captain "Scrap" Chandler, left field; Horace Hicks, shortstop; Jack Chalkley, catcher; "Slim" Richmond, pitcher; John Todd, centerfield; Bob Saffelle, pitcher; Denton, second base; Westbrook, centerfield; Moss, right field; "Rat" Parrish, outfielder, who played on the team in 1919 and 1920, has returned to college and is out fighting for his old position. The team lost five letter men from last year's squad—"Tac" Cooke, first base; Otto Lowe, third base; Freddie Chandler, catcher; Curt Thompson, pitcher, and Bill Love, outfielder.

The hardest gaps that Coach Tasker has to fill are first and third base. The team is practicing under a great handicap, in that there is not a suitable ball field in Williamsburg on which to practice, especially the infield. The athletic authorities state that the new diamond will be completed in time for the first game.

Capt. Hicks Chosen For All-State Five

William and Mary has the honor of having one man on the all-State basketball team and two on the all-college quint. These teams were selected by the coaches of college and university basketball teams throughout the State. Horace Hicks was elected to the all-State team by unanimous vote. Hicks naturally made the all-college team, and our star guard, Lee Todd, was also awarded a place on this select five. If a South Atlantic quint is picked, Hicks is practically sure to receive a place on it.

The all-State team is:

Hicks, W. & M., forward.

Lake, W. & L., forward.

Miller, Virginia, center; Kick, Lynchburg, center (tie vote.)

Walp, Virginia (captain), guard.

Miller, U. of R., guard; Ryder, V. M. I., guard (tie vote.)

All college team:

Hicks, W. & M., forward.

Fray, U. of R., forward.

Kick, Lynchburg, center.

L. Todd, W. & M., guard.

Miller, U. of R., guard.

Thrills A-Plenty College Night Games

The usual college night celebration took place last Monday night in the Jefferson Hall gym. The program consisted of two inter-fraternity basketball games. The first was between the Theta Delta Chi's and Kappa Sigma's; and the second between the Sigma Nu's and Sigma Phi Epsilon's.

In the first game, the Kappa Sigma's were outclassed from beginning to end by the Theta's superior floor work and more accurate shooting. At the end of the first half, the Theta's had established a substantial lead of 20 to 6. The Kappa Sigma's tightened up in the second half and only allowed their opponents fifteen points, scoring thirteen themselves. Pollard was by far the outstanding star for the victors, scoring eight field goals from all parts of the floor. Hillegas' guarding was the redeeming feature for the Kappa Sigma's. The final score was 35 to 19.

The second game between the Sigma Nu's and the Sigma Phi Epsilon's was by far the better exhibition of basketball. Both teams were in fighting trim and eager for the starting whistle. The guarding was exceptionally close throughout the first half and at the end of this period the score was 12 to 9 in favor of the Sigma Nu's. The Sigma Phi Epsilon's staged a comeback in the second period, scoring eight points to their opponents' six. Every point was bitterly contested, with neither team being able to establish a substantial lead. Newman's floor work and guarding featured for the Sigma Phi Epsilon's, while the honors were equally divided among the victors. The final score was 18 to 17.

The line-ups were as follows:

T. D. C. (35) K. S. (19)
Chandler ..... RF ..... Stuart
Pollard ..... LF ..... Bridges

Lash ..... C ..... Person
Taylor ..... RG ..... Sheild

Wells ..... LG ..... Zollinger
Substitutions—VanLear.

Miss Elizabeth Berger, of the College Mathematics Department, was among those attending the mid-winter dances at Randolph-Macon College last week-end.

MARCH 12 AND 13.

"The Bright Shawl."

A Spanish dancer and an American boy; death in a woman's smile and as sudden; the intrigue of dark Havana; the sinister languor of tropic nights fanned into flame by the whirling fringe of a beauty's shawl! Richard Barthelmess, with Dorothy Gish, in Joseph Hergesheimer's brilliant romance.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
MARCH 14 AND 15.

"Silver Wings."

American to the core; American boyhood, American girlhood, American home, American humor, American ingenuity, American grit, American success, American fortune, American honor, American pluck, American ideals and a wonderful American mother. Mary Carr in a wonderful picture of home life. Star of "Over the Hill."

New Spring Styles Attractively Shown

Spring has come,
The happiest time of all the year;
The pretty co-eds are strutting their stuff,
'Cause Thalheimer Brothers is here.

March on, ye endless line of William and Mary beauties; clad in garments of Thalheimer Brothers and strutting as only real models could.

The fashion show Saturday night was a great success. The gym was decorated appropriately and Willie Shelton acted as a page to announce the style and price of the gowns.

Thalheimers' suggested many pretty dancing frocks for the Easter hops. They were mostly fluffy dresses in orchid and yellow.

For campus wear a sweater and skirt, a straight down flannel dress of red or green trimmed with white appropriate. Also a tub silk or a jumper dress over a checked silk shirt-waist is effective.

The very latest thing in tea-time gowns were black and white and henna, over silver-cloth.

The models were: Peggy McClure, Fax Griffith, Lillian Easley, Francis Gibbons, Annabelle Dennis, Evelyn Gordon, Ba. Hardy, Helen Forsyth, Alice Moss and Marie Ebel.

During the showing Katherine Watson and Emma Ball entertained with a Chinese interpretation of a song and Anna Wilkins and Marie Ebel danced the tango.

Leaves College

Thomas Russell, of Youngstown, Ohio, was forced to leave school last week on account of illness. Russell was one of the Sigma Phi Epsilon "Goats," and although here but a short while, had many friends on the campus.

NEW DRAMA COURSE FOR SPRING QUARTER

given in the autumn quarter, and of English 225 (Types of Modern Contemporary European and American Drama), given in the winter quarter. These two courses have proved unusually popular.

In English 235 a number of contemporary English and American plays will be minutely studied, and modern dramatic technique will be closely analyzed. Each student will be required to write a one-act play, and to participate in a play to be presented at the college.

The number of students in the class will, of course, be limited in order to insure to each student the individual attention necessary for real results in a course of this kind. Fifteen or twenty of the students having successfully passed on English 215 and 225, will be selected for the work of this quarter. However, any student who is especially prepared for such work and who is particularly interested in the drama should, before the beginning of the spring quarter, see Assistant Professor Irving H. White, under whose direction English 235 will be offered.

Silk Industry Will Be Pictured March 13

Mr. Jewell, salesman for the Real Silk Hosiery Mills, will present to the students of William and Mary and people of Williamsburg March 13, at 7:30 in the College Chapel, a two-reel picture showing the various stages in the gathering and manufacture of silk.

This representative of the silk company comes to William and Mary under the auspices of the Alpha Kappa Psi commercial fraternity. The picture is said to be of great educational value, showing as it does every step in the process of silk manufacture, from the cocoon to the finished garment.

The public is invited to attend the showing.

Mr. Joseph E. Healy, who graduated in 1910, was a recent visitor to the college.

Sails For California On U. S. S. Chaumont

Emily L. Hall, M. A. '23, daughter of Dr. John Lesslie Hall, of the Department of English, left Sunday for the Norfolk Naval Base, where she sailed for San Francisco on board the United States transport Chaumont.

Miss Hall will spend some time in California visiting her brother, Lieutenant Commander J. Lesslie Hall, Jr., who is stationed at Los Angeles.

She will return to Williamsburg in June, stopping over in West Baden, Indiana, where she will attend the national convention of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

The girls' monogram club is to be congratulated on the success of the fashion show, held in the gymnasium of Jefferson Hall last Saturday night. However, the fact that the publicity committee was eliminated from the "free list" is to be regretted.

SPRING SEASON TO BRING MUCH ACTIVITY

Almost everyone expressed sympathy with the movement for campus improvement by wearing an Alpha Club tag Wednesday.

Tonight the Phoenix Literary Society is featuring Chancellor George H. Bradford in his famous lecture—"Suncrowned Manhood"—which has been widely advertised.

The development of these and other plans deny our susceptibility to the season's lethargic enchantment. College spirit has broadened until now it not only supports athletics, but all other opportunities for the progress of the school. Soon the library will be capable of supplying the demands of the most omnivorous reader; and the campus environment will be so agreeable that to be campused will be a pleasure instead of a punishment.

MICHAEL FARADAY
1791-1867

Apprentice to an English book-binder. Attracted the attention of Sir Humphrey Davy, becoming his assistant. "The greatest experimentalist of all times," says one biographer. The electrical unit Farad was named for him.

"What's the use of it?"

Michael Faraday saw the real beginning of the age of electricity nearly a century ago when he thrust a bar magnet into a coil of wire connected with a galvanometer and made the needle swing.

Gladstone, watching Faraday at work in his laboratory, asked, "What's the use of it?" The experimenter jestingly replied, "There is every probability that you will soon be able to tax it." The world-wide use of electricity that has followed the Faraday discovery abundantly justifies the retort to Gladstone.

Faraday's theory of lines of force is constantly applied in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company in devising new electrical apparatus of which Faraday never dreamed. Every generator and motor is an elaboration of the simple instruments with which he first discovered and explained induction.

In 1880 the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, of New York City, installed a generator of 1200 lamps capacity, then considered a giant. By continuous experimentation and research the General Electric Company has developed generators 900 times as powerful as this wonder of forty years ago.
